People say that a gesture can mean so much. It might be a handwritten note or a bouquet of flowers. And where better to express such gestures than on the wall? This collection shows how we can fill our home with the beautiful things in life in a natural and romantic way. You might be drawn to slanted writing or lavish ornamentation in a floral design, for instance. Such patterns are joined by an array of flower and floral motifs, whether in delicate watercolour shades, in the form of pencil drawings of little birds, or in vibrant, coordinated colours. The pale pastel tones of sunshine yellow, dove blue or sage green have a wonderfully breezy effect. And fresh rose pink and various earthy shades are an absolute must, especially when the textile-like surface makes them look so natural. Everything you need to feel right at home.

I miss you, I can see you in my dreams when you read this just maybe you'll know I believe that this is fate, I guess that's love me forever I know everything is gonna be as long as we have each other - through
